THE HAROLD & CAROLE PUMP FOUNDATION –

Dedicated to raising funds for organizations in need, strengthening communities, and improving the lives of those we serve.

The Harold and Carole Pump Foundation (HCPF) was established in honor of a beloved father who courageously battled cancer until his passing in 2000, and a loving mother who passed away in 2012. Inspired by their parents' strength, compassion, and legacy, brothers Dana and David Pump have dedicated themselves to making a meaningful difference in the fight against cancer.

Through their extraordinary relationship-building abilities and strong partnerships within the community, Dana and David Pump, in collaboration with the Northridge Hospital Foundation, have helped raise more than $13.5 million to support the Carole Pump Women's Center, the Harold & Carole Pump Department of Radiation Oncology, the Pump Family Infusion Center, and the Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Cancer Center at Northridge Hospital Medical Center, and numerous other nonprofit community organizations.

The mission of the Harold & Carole Pump Foundation is to raise funds and create awareness for the treatment, prevention, and cure of cancer. By bringing together community leaders, sports figures, healthcare professionals, donors, and families impacted by the disease, the Foundation provides critical financial support for innovative cancer treatments, patient-centered programs, supportive services, and advanced medical technologies that improve the lives of those facing cancer

EDUCATION AND FREE SCREENINGS

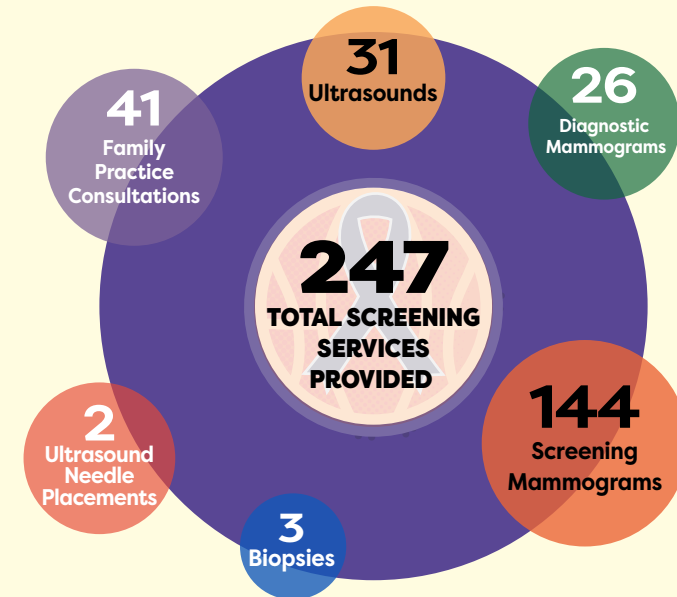

Educating the community about cancer prevention and the importance of early detection is essential to improving the health and well-being of our residents. Through free educational outreach and life-saving cancer screenings, early diagnosis can significantly improve outcomes and save lives.

In 2025, the Harold & Carole Pump Foundation Outreach Program participated in 37 community events, providing cancer awareness education to 4,730 individuals throughout the community.

The Carole Pump Women's Center at Northridge Hospital hosted 12 FREE "Reaching Out" Health Fairs for uninsured members of our community. These Health Fairs welcomed hundreds of attendees who received free breast evaluations and screening services in a compassionate and supportive environment. In addition to screenings, participants were educated on prevention strategies and healthy lifestyle choices that may help reduce their risk of developing cancer.

In 2025, the Harold & Carole Pump Foundation provided 247 FREE screening and support services, including:

PATIENT NAVIGATOR

A cancer diagnosis can be overwhelming not only for patients, but also for their families and loved ones. The Family Plan Program was created to provide compassionate guidance, emotional support, and personalized assistance throughout every step of the cancer journey.

Through the generous support of the Harold & Carole Pump Foundation, a dedicated Patient Navigator serves as a trusted resource and advocate for patients and their families. Working one-on-one with both inpatients and outpatients, the Navigator helps individuals better understand and access the services available through the Carole Pump Women's Center, the Harold & Carole Pump Department of Radiation Oncology, and the Leavey Cancer Center.

The Patient Navigator provides compassionate support, education, encouragement, and care coordination to help ease the stress and uncertainty that often accompanies a cancer diagnosis. By connecting patients and families with critical resources, treatment information, support services, and symptom management tools, the Family Plan Program empowers individuals to make informed decisions and feel supported every step of the way.

FAMILY PLAN - SUPPORT, COMFORT, HOME HEALTH

The Family Plan Program was created to provide comfort, support, and practical assistance to cancer patients and their families during some of life's most challenging moments. The program helps ease the financial and emotional burdens associated with a cancer diagnosis by assisting with home healthcare services, supportive care, and essential equipment needs.

Patients facing cancer often endure difficult treatments, invasive procedures, exhausting side effects, and ongoing uncertainty. These physical challenges are frequently accompanied by emotional stress, fatigue, anxiety, and depression that impact not only the patient, but also their loved ones and caregivers.

The Family Plan Program is designed to provide compassionate one-on-one support and resources that help patients maintain dignity, comfort, and quality of life throughout treatment and recovery. Whether receiving care in the hospital or at home, patients and families can rely on the Foundation's commitment to ensuring they feel supported every step of the way.

In 2025, the Harold & Carole Pump Foundation provided cancer patients with more than 389 hours of home healthcare and personalized one-on-one support services.

FAMILY PLAN PROGRAM - TRANSPORTATION ASSISTANCE FOR PATIENTS IN NEED

Reliable transportation is essential for cancer patients to access life-saving treatments, follow-up appointments, and critical diagnostic testing. For many patients and families facing financial hardship, transportation can become a significant barrier to receiving consistent care.

Through the Family Plan Program, the Harold & Carole Pump Foundation dedicates funding to provide transportation assistance for cancer patients who have no reliable means of travel to and from the hospital for treatments, consultations, and medical tests. This compassionate service helps reduce stress for patients and families while ensuring individuals can continue receiving the care they need without interruption. In 2025, the Harold & Carole Pump Foundation provided 1,238 transportation trips for patients in need. This program continues to be an invaluable resource, offering comfort, accessibility, and peace of mind to those facing the challenges of cancer treatment.

FAMILY PLAN PROGRAM - MASSAGE THERAPY PROGRAM

A cancer diagnosis and treatment journey can place tremendous physical and emotional strain on patients and their families. The Family Plan Program helps support the overall well-being of patients by providing services designed to reduce stress, promote comfort, and improve quality of life during treatment and recovery.

Through the Leavey Cancer Center Massage Therapy Program, patients are offered compassionate therapeutic care three days each week in a calming and supportive environment. Patients may choose from 20-minute neck and shoulder, hand, or foot massage sessions specifically designed to help ease the physical and emotional challenges associated with cancer treatment.

These therapeutic sessions help reduce stress, anxiety, pain, fatigue, and nausea while also providing comfort, relaxation, and meaningful human connection during a difficult time. By supporting both emotional wellness and physical relief, the program offers patients moments of peace and healing throughout their cancer journey.

In 2025, a total of 688 massage therapy sessions were provided to cancer patients through this program.

Mookie Betts

Lifetime Achievement Award

Mookie Betts can just about do anything he wants to do.

Once he puts his mind and dedication into what's in front of him, it is all systems go.

Betts, who was one of the greatest right fielders in baseball, moved over to shortstop to fill a Dodgers need in 2025. Day after day, Betts spent extra time in the field taking ground ball after ground ball from the Dodgers coaching staff and getting advice on the position from the staff as well as veteran Miguel Rojas.

The hard work and dedication paid off as Betts was recognized as one of the elite shortstops in the game and a finalist for a National League Gold Glove.

And the icing on the cake came in the World Series in the deciding game seven in Toronto as the talented Betts fielded a ground ball by Alejandro Kirk, stepped on second base and threw to Freddie Freeman at first base to complete a game ending double play in the 11th inning and give the Dodgers back-to-back championships with a 5-4 victory.

The 2025 season was extra special for Betts, not only winning his fourth World Series championship and ring (2018-2020-2024-2025), but his peers recognized him with the Roberto Clemente Award given to the Major League player, whose impact on lives through his charitable work. Betts is always giving of himself, whether it is on the field or off the field.

A 13-year Major Leaguer, the Dodgers were very fortunate indeed to obtain Betts' services in a trade with the Boston Red Sox in 2020. And over the seven years in Dodger Blue, Betts has helped the organization win three World Championships.

The start of his 2025 season didn't go the way he wanted as he came down with a stomach virus as the Dodgers opened the season in Japan with the Chicago Cubs. The talented athlete dropped more than 20 pounds and found himself on the injured list. He returned in early April and still played in 150 games, while getting stronger, and hit .258 with 20 home runs and 82 RBI.

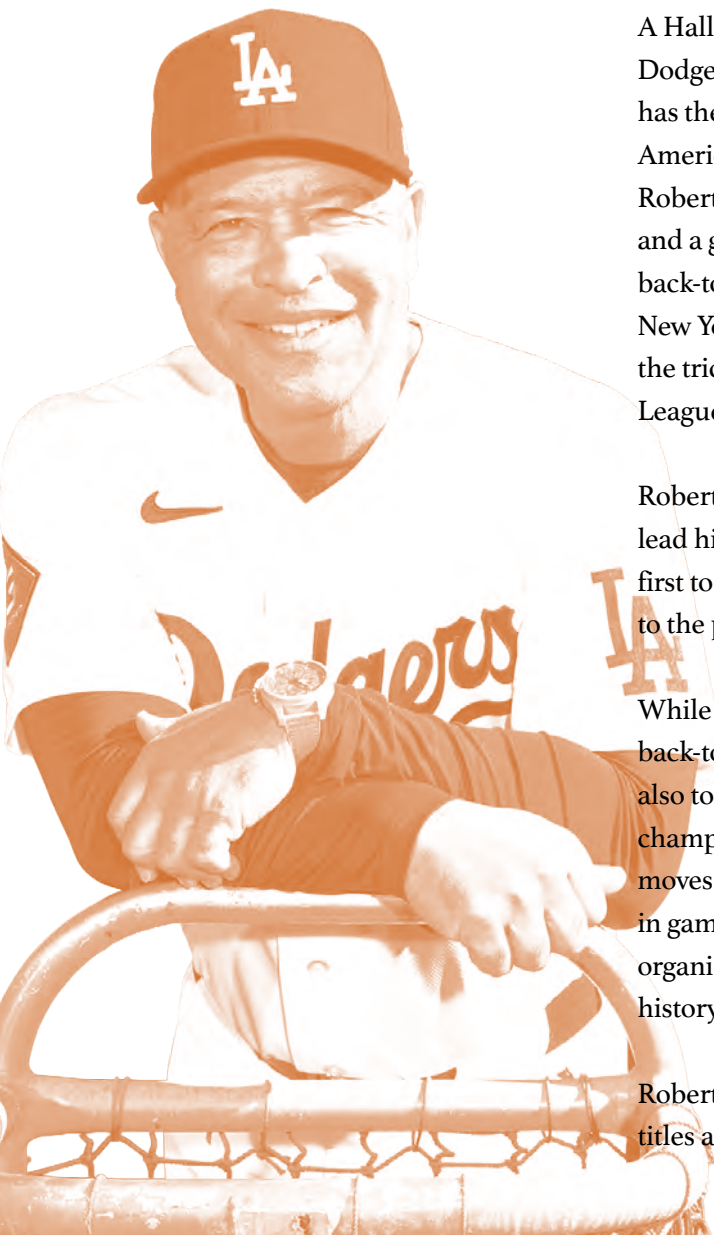

Betts has been putting up numbers and accolades that point to the Hall of Fame as he has a lifetime batting average of .290 with 291 home runs and 913 RBIs entering this season. He's a seven-time silver slugger, an eight-time All-Star, a six-time Gold Glove winner and a five-time member of the All-MLB team.

A multiple 300 game bowler, he recently took up guitar.

Who knows what he will do next?

Dave Roberts

Lifetime Achievement Award

Dave Roberts has done a masterful job in his 10-year managerial career with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

A Hall of Fame communicator, Roberts has guided the Dodgers to perfection over his first 10 years in which he has the highest winning percentage of .621 in National and American League history. Entering the 2026 season, Roberts has a record of 944-576 as a major league manager and a goal to become the third organization to win back-to-back-to-back championships in history. Only the New York Yankees and Oakland A's have been able to turn the trick...so the Dodgers would be the first in National League history if they do so in 2026.

Roberts is the only National League manager in history to lead his team to the playoffs in his first 10 seasons and the first to accomplish the feat since Joe Torre led the Yankees to the playoffs in his first 12 seasons at the helm.

While doing so, Roberts guided the Dodgers to back-to-back World Championships in 2024 and 2025 and also took home the big prize in 2020. It was the 2025 championship that earned Roberts the most praise as his moves and motivation guided the Dodger Blue to victories in game six and game seven in Toronto to give the organization its ninth World Championship in its rich history.

Roberts is one of 11 managers with three World Series titles and nine of those managers are in the Hall of Fame.

Hall of Fame Dodger manager Walter Alston won three World Series titles and made four trips to the World Series in his first 10 seasons as Dodger manager. And another Dodger Hall of Famer, Tommy Lasorda won two World Series.

His managerial career with the Dodgers started when he became the 28th manager in Dodgers franchise history on Nov. 23, 2015. He also became the first manager of color in Dodger history.

Before turning his sights to managing in the big leagues, Roberts played 10 years in the majors. He debuted with Cleveland on Aug. 7, 1999 and played for five different clubs--the Indians (1999-2001), Dodgers (2002-04, Boston (2004), San Diego (2005-06) and San Francisco (2007-08).

Roberts was most famous in his playing career for stealing second base off the Yankees' Mariano Rivera in the ninth inning of Game 4 of the 2004 American League Championship Series. The steal put him in position to score the tying run as Boston became the first team in MLB history to rally from a 3-0 series deficit in the postseason and win a seven-game series.

Following his 10-year playing career, he spent the 2010 season in San Diego's front office, became the Padres' first base coach from 2011-13, then became their bench coach in 2014 and 2015 and then got the call from the Dodgers to guide them as their manager.

Andy Pages

Lifetime Achievement Award

There were many defining plays in the Los Angeles Dodgers game seven World Series victory.

The Dodgers would have never got to the 11th inning to see Will Smith's deciding home run in Toronto if not for young centerfielder Andy Pages.

Pages, who was an international signee by the Dodgers in 2018, was inserted into the game and in centerfield by manager Dave Roberts one batter before he made a spectacular series saving play on the warning track just shy of the wall.

With the bases loaded and two out in the bottom of the ninth inning and the score tied in World Series Game 7 at 4 apiece, Pages sprinted 121 feet in 5.5 seconds (22 feet per cent) and made the catch of the series off a 366-foot drive by Ernie Clement, while crashing into left fielder Kiké Hernández.

Pages progressed through the Dodgers minor league system, taking five years (plus a sixth year, where he didn't play because of COVID). In 2024, after a fast start at Oklahoma City in just 16 games at Triple-A, Pages earned the call to the big club.

One year later, Pages had his best season as he hit .272 with 27 doubles, 27 home runs and 86 RBIs. Pages found difficulty at the plate in the post-season, but he continued to work hard in hopes of getting the call off the bench. The biggest call came in the ninth inning of Game 7, when Roberts called Pages number for defensive purposes and he was more than ready.

In just two years, Pages has developed into one of the finest center fielders in the league. He has shown opposing teams that he has a strong arm to reckon with as he is among the league leaders in outfield assists.

And in the first half of the 2026, Pages hard off-season work has paid off at the plate as he is among the top hitters in the league and his RBI numbers are at the top of the league leaders.

Pages is one of the bright future stars of the Dodgers as the 25-year-old out of La Habana, Cuba was 18-years-old when he left home to sign with the Dodgers in 2018.

It wasn't the easiest of times for Pages as he left Cuba and his family and did not see them again until 2023. During those years, Pages continued to work hard with the Dodgers coaching staff and eventually landed a permanent spot in Los Angeles in the Dodgers outfield.

And a permanent spot in his teammates memories for a game seven World Series saving catch that eventually led to the Dodgers winning back-to-back championships.

Miguel Rojas

Lifetime Achievement Award

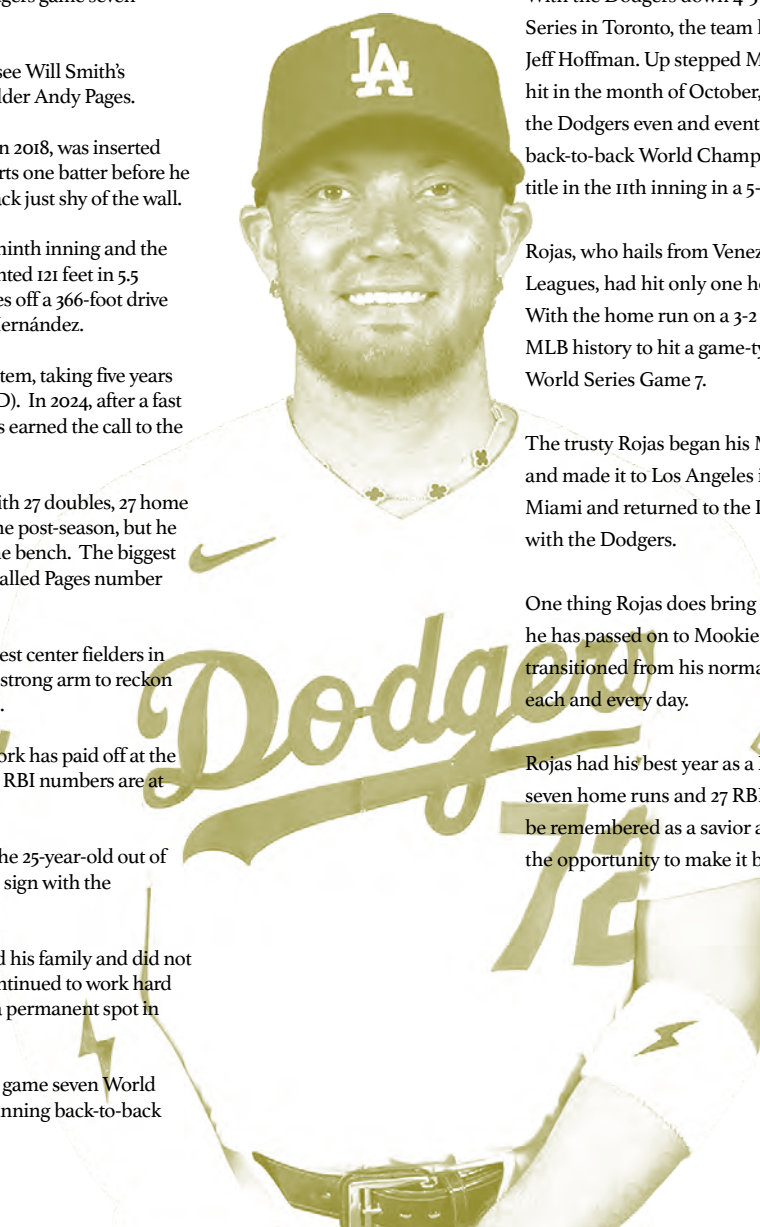

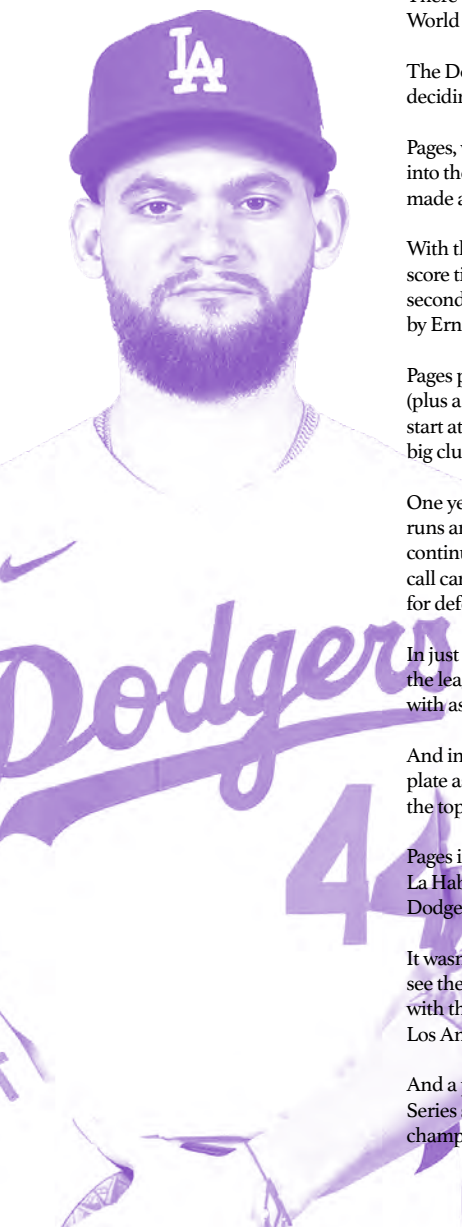

With the Dodgers down 4-3 in the 9th inning of game 7 of the 2025 World Series in Toronto, the team had two outs left to them against Blue Jays closer Jeff Hoffman. Up stepped Miguel Rojas to the plate. Rojas, who did not have a hit in the month of October, connected a 387-foot home run to left field to get the Dodgers even and eventually send the game to extra innings and hope for back-to-back World Championships. The Dodgers would eventually win the title in the 11th inning in a 5-4 victory.

Rojas, who hails from Venezuela and is playing in his 13th season in the Major Leagues, had hit only one home run in the second half of the 2025 season. With the home run on a 3-2 hanging slider, Rojas became the first player in MLB history to hit a game-tying home run in the 9th inning or later of a World Series Game 7.

The trusty Rojas began his Major League career with the Dodgers in 2012 and made it to Los Angeles in 2014. He was traded at the end of the year to Miami and returned to the Dodgers in 2023 and is playing his fourth year with the Dodgers.

One thing Rojas does bring is his experience and knowledge, something that he has passed on to Mookie Betts, who he worked with when Betts transitioned from his normal right field spot to play shortstop for the Dodgers each and every day.

Rojas had his best year as a Dodger in 2025, when he hit .262 in 114 games with seven home runs and 27 RBI. It was a year in which "Miggy" as he is called will be remembered as a savior at the plate and in the field in giving the Dodgers the opportunity to make it back-to-back World Champions.

Will Smith

Lifetime Achievement Award

There were so many possible scenarios to the 2025 World Series, but it only took one crack of the bat to make the Dodgers World Champions.

With the score tied in the top of the 11th inning, it was the veteran catcher Will Smith who slugged a 366-foot shot to left field that thrust the Dodgers in front in game 7 of the World Series at Toronto. It was the first extra-inning homer in a winner-take-all-game in World Series history.

The 8-year veteran and 3-time World Series champion was a workhorse for the Dodgers as he caught all 73 innings of the World Series, more than any player in Fall Classic history.

The Dodgers got their man behind the plate back in 2016, when he was the 32nd player chosen in the first round of the draft out of the University of Louisville. It didn't take him long to reach the big leagues as he made Dodger Stadium his home in 2019.

Smith has earned All-Star honors the past 3 seasons. Last year at the break, he was hitting .323 with 12 home runs and 46 RBI to earn the All-Star honor. Smith finished last season with his best year at the plate when he hit .296 with 20 doubles, 17 home runs and 61 RBIs. Over his 7 years in the big leagues, he has averaged almost 20 home runs a season. He hit a career high of 25 homers in 2021.

In 2024, Smith became the 4th Dodger catcher to hit 3 home runs in a game on July 5th against Milwaukee, joining Roy Campanella, Mike Piazza and Yasmani Grandal.

Besides his accomplishments at the plate, the 30-year-old receiver continues to show his leadership in guiding the Dodger pitching staff to be the best in baseball.
